Vision Video Interactive (VVI) is a small company specializing in producing interactive media for marketing, advertising, education and training. VVI houses the latest technology to create and deliver interactive media and on-line learning. VVI produces online marketing, strategy development, E-commerce strategy development, blogging tools and search engine optimization (SEO). VVI integrates social media products and learning processes to engage users and learners in non-traditional settings.

VVI has won federal contracts to develop interactive learning modules and games including:

- ❖ SBIR Phase I and II contracts from Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to design a web-based tool to enhance healthy food choices by adults.
- ❖ SBIR Phase I contract from Dept. of Defense to design Web-fitness and Nutrition Advisor.
- ❖ SBIR Phase I contract from CDC to design Web-based Arthritis Self-Management Program
- ❖ SBIR Phase I contract from CDC to design Give Me 5: A Healthy Food Choice Web Tool.

Other VVI projects include: iPhone Handheld Bird app for National Geographic and iPhone Nutrition app for CDC and South Dakota Department of Health.

VVI is looking to hire an SBIR/Innovation Graduate Student Fellow to work closely with senior staff and the SBIR program director for South Dakota to assist in identifying product and funding opportunities, conduct market research to identify customer needs, identify competing products and companies, sources and uses of capital, development timetables and commercialization strategies.
